PREVIEW INFO SESSIONS

If you are a college transfer or high school student, consider attending Preview to get a first-hand look at the School of Art + Art History + Design and its programs.

These hour-long info sessions, led by professional academic advisers, are designed to introduce prospective undergraduate students to the academic and enrichment programs in the School including degree options, scholarships, classroom to career connections, and more.

No registration is necessary, but you should prepare for Preview by exploring our undergraduate degree programs in Art, Art History and Design on this website.

Preview starts at 3pm in Space 120, Art Building. The Art Building is located along Stevens Way near the north edge of the University of Washington Seattle campus. Commuter Services has information about getting to campus and parking.
