2019–2020

Coupe’s 'Exercises in Passivity' explores our changing relationship with technology at the Jacob Lawrence Gallery

2018–2019

Video: The Wikipedia gender gap
Exploring Blackness through Art
Curating the Future
Jacob Lawrence and the art of radical imagination
In an increasingly expensive Seattle, artist residencies provide much-needed space and support
Danny Giles Draws a Black Frame Around Whiteness
Who Knew Ass-Eating Could Be Portrayed So Succulently?
8 things to do in Seattle

2017–2018

Artist Combines Photography, Sculpture and Japanese Rope Straw as an Open-ended Metaphor for her Bi-racial Identity
Feminismo en la Jake, Mi Tía Rosa y la Historia de Todxs
Visceral Experience
Archival Art: C. Davida Ingram talks centering Black womanhood, her solo art show at UW and growing up in Chicago
"I Want to Live in a World That Loves Women, Not Simply a Society That Doesn't Rape"
Re-Presenting Black History in Art
W.I.T.C.H. Way
Poetic Meditations in an Emergency