The Art Library is a division of the UW Libraries, and it is one of the many specialized libraries located on the Seattle campus. The Art Library carries a wide range of books and periodicals covering periods of art from early humans to post-modern.

Students are encouraged to utilize the library for all their research while taking classes in the School of Art + Art History + Design.