Meg Hartwig / Stephanie Klausing:
Counting to Ten

August 1 –September 30, 2013

The pop-up A Gallery on Occidental Park is pleased to present a new collaborative work by Meg Hartwig and Stephanie Klausing, opening to coincide with First Thursday, August 1, 2013.

Meg Hartwig and Stephanie Klausing have collaborated to create a weighted manifestation of their past, present, and future, connecting seemingly intangible emotional and psychological weight to the weight of bricks, work, and time. Through this transformation, Hartwig and Klausing have reimagined the devotional object, talisman, or charm.

This collaboration is also uniquely personal to Hartwig's and Klausing's respective independent studio practices, making this exercise a sum of many parts.

The project in the A Gallery storefront will be an active collaboration. Please join us in welcoming Hartwig and Klausing into the project space.

Opening Information:

August 1, 2013, 6:00 pm
117 South Main Street
